

A photograph of a man and a young child smiling together. The man is on the left, wearing a light-colored sweater, and the child is on the right, wearing a striped shirt. The man is holding a small object in his hand. The background is a soft, warm color.

Promoting a strong start and charting a positive course for young children with disabilities.

O C A L I

Center for the Young Child

The Center for the Young Child (CYC) is dedicated to giving children with disabilities the best possible start in life because early experiences impact lifelong outcomes.

To learn more, visit www.ocali.org/cyc